THE CLEAN AIR PROBLEM

The Warren borough council has been dancing all around the clean air problem since it was proposed that something be done to eliminate pollution. The committee comes up with nothing and Solicitor Harper suggests it isn't an easy one. Burgess Rice reminded council that clean air controls must apply also to homes and public buildings.

Sewage control and the purity of the river also applies to every building and all of us pay the cost of preventing disease from this source. As we stalled on the cleaning of the river, so we can expect a tendency to procrastinate positive action that will protect our lungs and property from air impurities.

The fact is that river purification would have come about long ago if its effects had been as obvious as are those of the air. If our homes had been dirtied by it every year we would have acted. The soil on the porch seems to mean more to us than the condition of our lungs. The control of air pollution will become a reality when the public is completely enlightened on the subject and when the enlightenment is enhanced and facilitated by definite connections between air impurities and various diseases. If people were convinced they were killing themselves with the air they took in there would be action.

There are many who believe that cigarettes and other mediums of tobacco inhalation are not the only causes of disease, such as cancer. Car exhausts and industrial fumes also are suspected, especially where they are heavily concentrated.

Many of us believe that all trucks, cars, and busses should drive their fumes upward above pedestrian level with less sickening results. This does not require an engineering miracle, but could be designed and constructed by any capable layman. In fact, many trucks and busses already have such an arrangement.

The control of coal smoke no longer is a mystery. The coal industry through research and development of equipment has about eliminated smoke and fly ash. Combined with proper firing and combustion methods these applications have made coal a more convenient fuel for all kinds of users.

Today most plants are willing to cooperate in efforts to reduce smoke and fly ash. Not only does it make them better neighbors and improves public relations, but it saves them money. Black smoke rolling from a stack is a sign of waste in the boiler and furnace.

Today the problem of controlling home fuels is not as great as it was a few years back. Competition between fuels has helped, with gas forcing the coal industry to find ways of cleaning up the air. The housewife with dirty curtains is not difficult to sell on gas or electric heat. Cooperating with stoker firms and those who make furnaces, the coal producers came up with some methods of reducing the soot content.

The fight for clean air is moving into high gear, proof of which can be found in the press. Outside of engineers, technicians, and scientists little was said about this subject a few years ago. Now the public is awakening to the facts. This is due to an enlightenment on the part of editors and public officials.

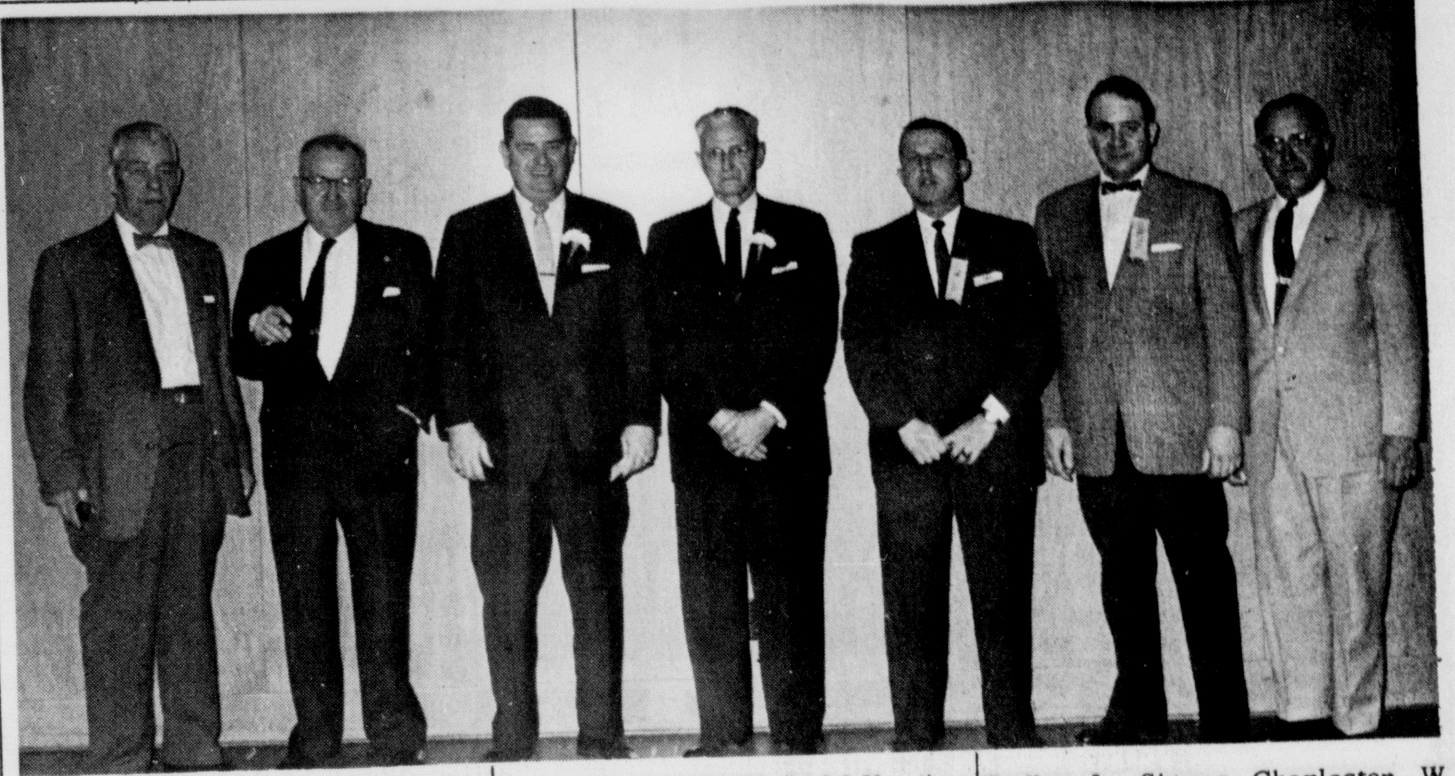

The number of news articles dealing with the problem has increased so much that 1858 such stories were seen in the nation's press the first three months of this year. It was only 397 in the same three of 1957.

Much credit must be given to the Air Pollution Control Association of America. It has pioneered much of this public enlightenment and has helped communities to solve their air purity problems. It is having its fifty-first annual meeting in the Sheraton Hotel, in Philadelphia, May 26 to 29. Interested officials or plant owners might learn much by looking in on this event.

As a part of this meeting there will be an exhibit by the All-American Cleaner Air Team. Manufacturers of air cleaning equipment will show how it can be done. The names of these manufacturers and what they will display can be found elsewhere in this issue.

Meanwhile, Warren toys with the problem and obviously can use some expert help. It also can use a bit of cooperation on the part of all local plants, which could avoid costly enforcement and eliminate public control by acting on their own initiative. And to be really clean we will need a concerted effort on the part of all political subdivisions, boroughs, townships, and county.

It may not prove easy, but neither is the cost of keeping homes clean, the expense of inefficient combustion, and the very costly results of sickness resulting from impure air.

LIONS DISTRICT RALLY. Approximately 400 Lions invaded Warren last week for the District 14-J Rally which honored Governor Elbert Nine, of Warren.

Among officials present for the meeting were (l. to r.) Junius M. Chestnutt, Harrisburg, state secretary-treasurer; E. G. Moyer, Schuylkill Haven, special representative from Lions International;

Dudley L. Simms, Charleston, W. Va., first vice president of Lions International; Elbert Nine, Governor District 14-J and outgoing Warren president; Jerome Waxman, incoming Warren president; Al Chiaramonte, Warren, Rally chairman; and Robert Wolfgang, Lions International counselor from York and candidate for International director.

WILLIAM H. BURKHART, New York City, president of Lever Brothers, will give the principal address at Warren high school commencement exercises to be held 8 p.m. June 4 on the Beaty lawn.

A native of Warren, Mr. Burkhardt graduated from high school here in 1917. In 1921 he received his degree from the University of Pennsylvania and on the following year was married to Frantzes Dinsmoor, of Warren. There is one daughter, Diane D. Burkhardt.

He has been associated with Lever Brothers Co. and with Lever-acquired interests since 1925.

BUYERS' CORNER

YOU REALLY OUGHT TO

There are several reasons why it might be to your advantage to make the most of the current "auto buy" promotion. There is the reluctance on the part of many congressmen to do anything about taxes. Suggesting that if you are waiting for an excise tax reduction you may be disappointed.

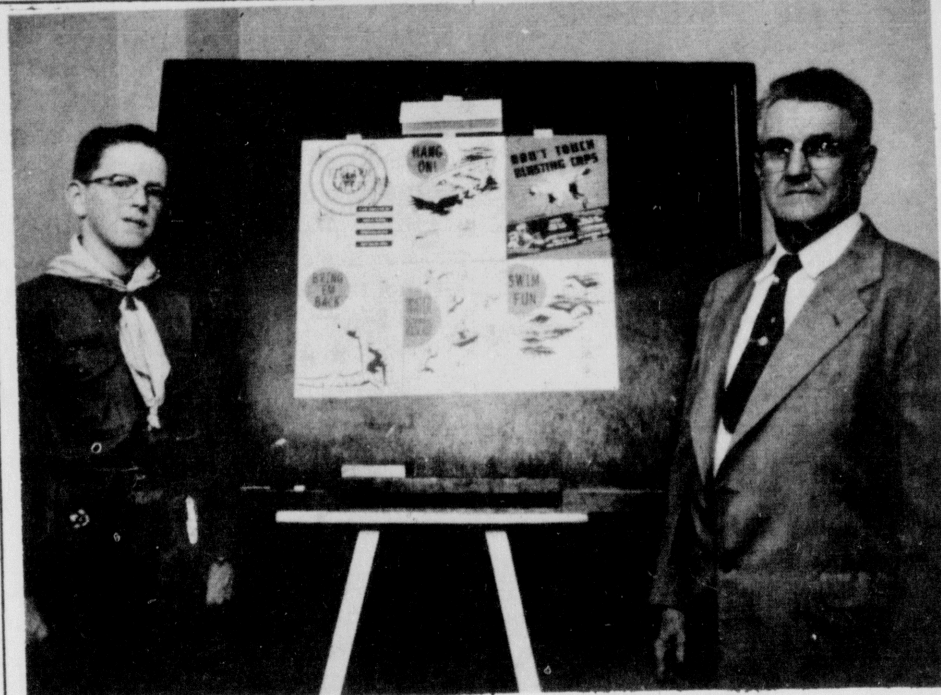

It is common knowledge that the 1959 models will not be revolutionary. According to many published reports, they will continue to be longer, more ornate, and all the other "mores" which are driving the American public to buy foreign imports. Through the purchase of a '58 at a savings, you may be just as well off as if you wait for a '59.

Then there is the possibility that many dealers will give you a special break as a part of the sale. They can do this very nicely during a sale and not establish a precedent. The result might be a saving just as large as a seven per cent reduction in excise taxes, a reduction that may not be made.

SOME CHANGES

The statement that there will be no radical changes in the 1959 models should be modified. Basically we doubt if the major lines will change in a way that will meet the foreign competition in the small car field. But there will be some changes.

Unfortunately Detroit is inclined to listen to the marketing experts who argue that you should not give the public what it wants. You should sell the public what you want it to buy.

object approaches. The beeps will become increasingly loud and rapid as the object comes closer.

It is hoped that it also can be developed to apply the brakes, thus saving the life of intoxicated people, their passengers, and people in other cars. It also might save lives where a sleeping driver is involved.

PIGS AND COWS

Call the vet if your pig sneezes, and be happy if your cow is big. Sneezing pigs may mean the presence of a serious disease, such as atrophic rhinitis, or bull nose.

And big cows give more milk. Extensive tests have revealed that large cows produce more milk and butterfat than the smaller ladies in the herd.

MOW GRASS RIGHT HEIGHT

Grass cut too short may suffer a setback. Your blade should be set for an inch and a half for ideal growth. The problem is to keep it that way, as any fisherman or golfer can tell you.

EVALUATING SCHOOLS

The first report of the Committee of Fifteen is in. This committee was appointed about a year ago by the Pennsylvania State Education Association to evaluate Pennsylvania's public school program. There were three subcommittees named and the report of one, dealing with Introduction, Overview, and Philosophy, is in.

"In commenting on the increasing population and the rising level of income, the Committee stated that just as there has been a radical change in our entire concept of the scale of our spending for national defense, and for our public highway program, there must be a comparable change in our thinking about what we need to spend for education. A break-through to a new level of support is absolutely essential if we are to maintain our position of leadership in the community of nations.

"The subcommittee stressed the philosophy that the survival of the American way of life and all the freedoms we cherish will depend on what happens in the classrooms in the next quarter century. 'Human existence has always been a race with catastrophe. But never has the race been so close. The world of today and tomorrow requires not merely a scientific education, but more education of all kinds. In a world in which an individual has to know five times as much as he did a generation ago, much depends on who draws the weapons of the mind and to what use he puts them. 'Changes in living habits were also noted by the educators.

"The trend in urban population in which children are no longer an economic asset as they were in an earlier age poses new school problems in terms of providing more schooling and activities to keep youthful energies directed toward socially acceptable channels.

"The problem of what to do for the pupils who do not complete their high school education is a pressing one.

"There is a wasting of human talents which no nation can afford. A 40 per cent drop-out rate is appalling. Less than the 20 per cent who do graduate from high school enter an institution of higher learning. Half of those who enter college do not finish.

"Thus the importance of education in the public school takes on added significance. The subcommittee concurred that a more complete public education must be provided at the local level for those who do not pursue degrees of higher learning so that they may fill their places in modern society."

Two more committees are to be heard from. One is studying the Program, Today and Tomorrow, and the other is interested in Financing, Today and Tomorrow. We will give you the results of these studies as they are analyzed and released to us.

A FREEDOM STEP

Franklin and Olive Hoff, formerly of Warren and active in radio work here, now are working with the renowned Dr. Frank Laubach, teacher of literacy in all parts of the world. They have attended the University of Michigan where they took a concentrated course in this work. They now are attending a workshop in Memphis, where WKNO is located. WKNO is the first tv station in the nation to teach literacy.

Edward R. Murrow may do a program on Dr. Laubach's work, showing how he teaches people in backward areas to read, write, and talk. And unfortunately some of these areas are right around us in our own nation.

Until the people of the world can read, write, and talk, oppression will thrive and true freedom cannot be.

U. S. TOPS SOVIET

Our European reporter describes the World Exposition in Brussels as a real joy, very well planned, and a skillful blend of exhibits, music, flowers, fountains, and architecture. He contradicts the gloom mongers who predicted that the American exhibit would not be adequate and would be surpassed by the Russians.

According to our reporter, the United States exhibit is in very good taste, and is very warm and human. By contrast the Russian exhibit is a warehouse . . . big, but very cold.

In Brief

ALL BIDS WERE REJECTED by the Warren borough council last week at a special meeting held to consider the summer's paving project. When the borough engineer suggested that the bids were too high, council decided to advertise again and to open new bids on June 9, at its regular meeting. It also is considering some changes in the Second street widening specifications. It is possible the center of the street can be changed to avoid expensive basement alterations on the south side.

AN UNUSUAL DRAGON has been produced by the Warren high school seniors. Using a television theme it tunes into channels 1, 9, 5, and 8, with 1 titled curriculum; 2, students; 5, sports; 8, activities.

The book is dedicated to Joe Massa, "by reason of his enthusiastic interest in the physical well-being of Warren High school boys and for his vital concern in maintaining a sound program of athletics, we, the Class of 1958, respectfully dedicate our 'Dragon'.... Those who have known him will always remember him as a personal friend."

A double page photograph near the front of the book shows Warren as viewed from the Warren Television Co. antenna site and is titled, "The cold steel of the Warren Television Company antenna gathers the warmth of video entertainment for the city below." The insides of the covers are printed with a design consisting of tv schedules.

$400,000 IN DAMAGES is the amount sought by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lowe, of 207 Willoughby ave., Warren, who are suing the Warren Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Atlantic Fire Works Corporation, of New Castle, for injuries sustained by their son, Alan, when an explosive went off in his hand two years ago.

Alan lost his right hand in the explosion and the hearing in one ear was impaired. The accident occurred the day following the Fourth of July fireworks display while Alan and a companion were exploring the Beaty field area where the show was staged.

The money asked covers many counts, including the loss of earning capacity, physical deformity, mental anguish, the loss of services to his parents during his minority, medical expenses already incurred, and the life-time medical costs involved.

The basis of the suit is negligence on the part of the defendants. It is believed that Lloyds of London is the insurance company involved with the fireworks corporation.

A major expense involved in a case of this kind is the artificial hand which must be replaced at regular intervals. Until the boy reaches his maturity, a new hand must be acquired every eighteen months. After that the replacement is necessary every three years for the rest of his life.

The accident occurred July 6, 1956, when Alan who then was ten years of age, grabbed an explosive from the hands of Eddie Vaughn, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Vaughn, 2 Myrtle st., Warren. He said he knew it was going to explode and intended to toss it away. But it exploded too soon. The Vaughn boy escaped with burns and puncture wounds.

The suit was filed last Friday. The earliest session of court which could hear it would be next November's.

FIVE-YEAR-OLD Alexis Jenkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Jenkins, 1131 Pleasant rd., suffered cuts and bruises early Thursday afternoon when she darted from behind a parked car and was struck by a vehicle operated by Robert E. Dunn, 17 Hemlock st.

FAULTY BRAKES. A three-car mishap occurred shortly after noon Tuesday at the intersection of Market st. and Pennsylvania ave. when the brakes failed on a car driven by Mrs. Bernice F. Dell, 108 Roy st.

Proceeding south on Market, Mrs. Dell struck the rear of a stopped auto driven by Harold Morine, 305 1/2 Water st., driving it in turn into the rear of a third car occupied by Lila Jane Gordon, Polk.

The Gordon woman and her two passengers suffered neck injuries.

The majority of the $460 damage caused was to the Warren autos.

HOSPITALIZED with injuries suffered in a two-car accident around five o'clock Wednesday afternoon was Benjamin M. Malec, Starbrick, R. D. 2, Warren.

The incident happened when Malec backed out of his drive on the north side of Route 6 and was struck by a westwardly moving vehicle driven by Milton Cressley, R. D. 1, Spring Creek.

Several passengers in the Cressley auto required treatment also.

A LAW SUIT against the Borough of Warren is to be filed in the near future by the attorney of Nertha Keller, Warren, who suffered injuries in a fall on an icy sidewalk on South st. last December. The notice has already been filed.

THE HOTEL CARVER fire, which occurred April 25, 1956, makes the news again next week when relatives of the four guests who lost their lives in the blaze will sue for damages. CHAPMAN WILL SEEK EIGHTH TERM; DEFEATS MEAD 2 TO 1 IN PRIMARIES

Senator L. E. Chapman, Warren, will seek his eighth term in the state senate on the Republican ticket when the general election comes up in November. After holding the office for 28 years the well known Warren County doctor in Tuesday's Primary election defeated County Commissioner Blain Mead, Warren, to again become the nominee for the senate post in the 48th district.

He will run against Mayor Van Kirk, of Oil City, who went unopposed on the Democratic ticket.

The unofficial vote: Warren County--Chapman, 3,482; Mead, 1,883. Venango County--Chapman, 4,699; Mead, 2,567 (the latter two figures are incomplete).

Chapman carried all the precincts in Warren borough and the majority of the districts throughout Warren County in the only local campaign of major interest.

Both party candidates for Representative in the General Assembly went unopposed. Allen Gibson, of Sheffield received 4,606 votes, while Harold Spink, Sugar Grove, collected 1,625 on the Democratic ticket.

Party promoted candidates won throughout the state. U.S. Senator--Gov. Leader, Dem., 1,549 votes in Warren County; Scott, Rep., 3,141.

Governor--David L. Lawrence, Dem. 1,553; Arthur T. McGonigle, Rep., 2,766 (his strongest opponent, Stassen, received 1,950 votes in the county).

Nominees for lieutenant governor are J.M. Davis, Dem., and Walker, Rep. For secretary of internal affairs it is Blatt, Dem., and Gleason, Rep.

D. Mathers, 19, of R. D. 1, Pittsfield. A jury last week found the county man guilty of statutory rape.

SPEEDSTER. Richard Fehlman, 20, of Pittsfield, was rescued by State Police officers shortly after midnight Wednesday when he missed a curve on the Follett Run rd., struck a utility pole and rolled over an embankment. The driver, who was speeding to escape authorities at the time, was pinned underneath his auto and had to be freed from the wreckage.

He was treated for minor injuries at the hospital and discharged. Damage to the vehicle was $300.

UNEMPLOYMENT compensation has returned into the Warren area during the past 20 years more than $4,139,000. The first check issued through the local office was in 1938 and since then more than 219,000 other checks have been sent to eligible claimants in the office area and in many cases helped prevent economic hardships.

Summarizing some of the major results of the overall operations of the Employment Security program throughout the State since 1938, more than 107 million continued claims for unemployment benefits have been received and more than $1,766 million paid out in benefits. To pay these benefits more than $1,922 million in taxes have been collected from Pennsylvania employers during the 20-year period that the law has been in effect.

Since the Pennsylvania Unemployment Compensation Law required claimants to register for work with the Pennsylvania State Employment Service, the program also helps unemployed workers find new jobs. More than 29,003 have registered for work through the Warren office and more than 25,639 job openings have been filled during the past 20 years.

Important changes have taken place in many of the provisions of the Unemployment Compensation

School for Bad Drivers

Your safety on the road may be increased by a new experiment in teaching safe driving practices to drivers who are so bad they are serving jail terms for chronic violations. The study is being made by the Department of Correction of one of our big cities.

The idea is to find out what makes the offenders bad drivers, and see what can be done to correct the situation.

The school is under the supervision of a psychologist and a correction officer — both specially trained in driver education and safety.

The training program is run on a two-week basis; there are usually 30 students in each class. They receive thorough medical, psychiatric and psychological examinations before starting classes. Instruction includes practice driving with special safety equipment, discussion groups on various traffic problems, motion pictures on traffic safety, and driving over an obstacle course.

Most violators appreciate the program. Many feel that if they had known their weaknesses (eye trouble, poor coordination, etc.), they would not have made the driving errors they did.

The course is expected to point the way to legislative action to make sure that all drivers are mentally and physically equipped to hold licenses. Result: greater safety on America's roads for everyone.

Television and Radio

By John Crosby

Voice of Sense and Courage

Some years ago, we gave Elmer Davis a Peabody Award for his dry, terse, superbly sensible newscasts. The award luncheon was opened by a pretty scathing attack on broadcasting by Ted Weeks, editor of "The Atlantic Monthly" and an editor of Little, Brown & Company, the publishers, who, as I recall, lit into the broadcasters for imitating successful radio shows, for their pursuit of profit and for their avoidance of experiment.

Mr. Davis lumbered to his feet to accept his award and remarked, in those flat Hoosier tones that gave his every utterance such naked authority: "The broadcasters have just been accused of imitating the successful, of pursuing a buck, of being afraid to try anything new. Of course, all these vices are unknown to the publishing business." That not only put Mr. Weeks and the rest of us on the Peabody award committee in our places, but it put the sins of the broadcaster into proper human perspective.

Putting things into proper perspective was the special quality of genius that Elmer Davis brought to his profession, which was journalism. If you get just one master of common sense in a century, you are lucky. It was not Elmer Davis who said: "I disapprove of what you say, but I will defend to the death your right to say it." It was Voltaire. But Davis might very well have said it. The two men--Voltaire and Davis--were very similar; they both got straight to the heart of the matter; they said it in few words; their utterances were a mixture of candor and courage which in any society quite properly passes as wit; they were both men of such towering integrity that they spoke the truth aloud when $4,000 TO CUSTOMERS. Betty Lee Inc., of Warren, on Monday mailed to its charge customers a postal card which represented a one dollar bill. These bills may be spent anyway the customer chooses during the Betty Lee Roaring 20th Anniversary sale which started Wednesday.

The postal card states that it was Betty Lee's way of saying thanks to its valuable charge customers for giving them 20 years of successful business in Warren. Each card is numbered and to the lucky few whose number is posted in Betty Lee the card will be worth $5.

others were reduced to whispers and no one dared lay a finger on them because they were the men they were.

In 1954, E. B. White, another of those rare strong clear speakers of truth, said of Davis: "He is over sixty and his doctor wants him to taper off. Even a tapered-off Davis is worth ten of most men. He has spent his life tending the twin fires of liberty and justice in the drafty rooms of politics; this book ("But We Were Born Free") is his testament--a short, resounding book, dogging the steps of the fearmongers, praising that rare felicity, the right to think what one pleases and to say what one thinks."

The book came out right at the height of the clamor Sen. McCarthy was stirring the uproar, and when people deflected McCarthy for bringing the evils of Communism to the attention of the people, Davis wrote: "This amounts to saying that nothing brings the danger of fire more to the attention of the public than turning in false alarms all over town."

Davis was no more afraid of McCarthy than he was afraid of witches. I doubt that Davis would ever have said: "We have nothing to fear but fear itself" because he was sane enough to realize there were some things you ought to be afraid of. He spent his life telling people, for God's sake, be afraid of the real things, not of imaginary terrors and pointing out which was which.

In the early days of World War II, his newscasts were largely a catalogue of catastrophe for the forces of democracy. Conscientious journalist that he was, Davis reported these disasters fully and unflinchingly. Still I came away from his nightly newscasts reassured and hopeful because those drawling Indiana tones and that stringent Indiana common sense put even disaster into its proper focus. It's a rare quality indeed that can report the blackest news and yet leave the audience reassured and hopeful and just a little wiser. Davis did it night after night.

The voice has been muffled since the war and stilled entirely the last few years. Actually, a whole generation has come of age that knew Davis only by reputation and perhaps not even by that. There is, God knows, no one remotely comparable to him on the scene now and perhaps his time has passed. He was of an age of mighty alarms and his voice kept the multitude calm. Today the multitude is entirely too calm and the next great voice in broadcasting could well be one that ruffles the multitude and makes it mad, not the other way around. There aren't any of those voices around either.

Mr. Noble was released early in 1955 after having served ten years of this sentence. The Soviets had denied all knowledge of his whereabouts during this time. MORE FUN

Another facility for exercising your legs, developing your wind, and working up an appetite is expected to be located on the West Side of Warren soon. Plans have been drawn for a roller rink to be erected on a Pennsylvania ave. lot.

If this goes through, those who like to waltz around on the little wheels will be able to do so without using bigger wheels to get them there. It is a growing sport which many enjoy, and may prove very successful in Warren.

BUSY TIME

Anyone with a variety of tastes should find something to do in the coming days and weeks. It seems to be a time for special events and most of them are well supported, an example being the kitchen tour and tea of the Warren General hospital auxiliary last week. One kitchen hostess reported that five hundred people visited her culinary castle.

Today we find the Woman's Club

Art Talent show receiving entries, and whether or not you are one who splashes colors onto a bit of paper or canvas, this will prove entertaining. You will be amazed, as we annually are, by the talent revealed on the local level through these shows. You might even be inspired to give it a try. The show runs from May 26 through the 28.

The Barbershoppers do a repeat of their Dixieland Minstrel show Saturday night at eight, in Beaty, for the benefit of the Warren County Defense rescue division.

The Boy Scout county fair moves into the Youngsville fair grounds tomorrow and stays until Saturday. And it sounds as though you might be surprised and entertained by the displays and the program.

Clyde Beatty and his animals take over the Warren airport next Wednesday. This is a Jaycee project, giving you entertainment and providing money for more of it later in the year.

Not far away are the baccalaureate and graduation nights for area schools. This is a big moment for thousands as their sons, daughters, nieces, nephews, brothers, sisters, or close friends take a major step. And the problem of finding suitable gifts for all of them should play a minor part in stemming the recession.

Vacation is right around that Memorial Day corner and even now the plans are being laid. In Warren the Jaycees again will keep many home by a series of July events, including the choice of a queen, street dance, Fourth parade, water battle, boxing, and a drum corps competition.

The Shriners will have a summer ceremonial here and the American Legion will have its third annual spectacle of music.

The golfers will play more golf, the tennis players will give that sport its biggest year in Warren, and water sports will grow. Even the thought of the Kinzua dam seems to inspire people to look at boats and motors, and more will be seen in the stream this summer than ever before, though a dry year will limit the runs.

Film, arrows, and shoe leather will be consumed in greater quantities as the pleasures widen. More birds will be shot . . . in color, and more sky-watchers will join the bird watchers as the heavens become a major point of interest and the public learns that even a good pair of binoculars can bring the solar system into sharp focus. The moon can be brought so close that you fully appreciate how clear must be the picture taken by powerful telescopes, and the rocket trip does not seem as improbable as it did in the days when a trip to the moon had more down-to-earth meanings.

Nearby Chautauqua promises good music and drama, the lake beckons, and the garden awaits any who like to see results from their hours of exercising. And quietly in the rear, shaded and relaxed, is the hammock.

Holy Redeemer Church was the scene of the double ring wedding performance May 3 that united in marriage Miss Betty Petersen, daughter of Mr. Berrier Petersen, Kane, and John L. Daley, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Daley, Sr., Cobham Park rd., Warren.

The bride, a graduate of Warren high school, is employed in the district office of the Bell Telephone Co. Mr. Daley, who attended Warren high school and the Pennsylvania State University, is employed by Jones and Laughlin Steen Corp. as a system analyst in the Cleveland Works division.

Many Are Helped By New Service

The Board of Directors of the Family Service and Children's Aid Society wishes to take the occasion of its 1958 membership drive to thank the people of Warren County for their support and interest in the children's and family work of the agency. The initial purpose of expanding the children's work of the agency to include family case work was to preserve and improve the well-being of the children of our county.

The first six months of the agency's efforts have been very successful. While continuing to offer service to unwed mothers, children in their own and in foster homes, to adoptive parents; family counseling has also been given to many families who have come for help.

The young husband and wife with small children who had wanted to separate have learned to understand each other better and have reconciled their differences so that their family has remained intact and their children are happy; the parents of a discontented teen-ager have been helped to gain a better insight into his problems and he has come to respect and love them again; an aged woman has been helped to plan a home for herself.

People like these have come to the Family Service and Children's Aid Society. They have found friendly, sympathetic, well-trained workers who have given them help in solving their problems. Marriages have been preserved and many children have been saved from unhappiness.

Six months ago many of these people would have had no place to turn for help. Many of them would have unwittingly brought disaster to themselves and those dear to them. But now Warren offers them a place to come in time of trouble -- a place where people with any kind of family problem are welcome to come for help and advice.

Warren County should be proud of having these services for its people. Help to keep them by joining the Family Service and Children's Aid Society.

Handle Your Dog With Hand Signals

This Shetland Sheep dog knows that the raised hand of his young trainer is a signal for him to "lie down" immediately whether he is close in front of the boy or a distance away. The "lie down" command is one of the valuable techniques that any dog owner, even this eleven-year-old boy, can teach his pet to make him a better companion in the home.

Whether the pet is trained with the help of an instructor or at home by the owner, the first requirement is a healthy, well-cared-for dog; according to the Hunt Club dog food experts. Their new Dog Breakfast Biscuits and 5-Flavor Dog Dinner provide a complete well-balanced diet and all the nutritional requirements to keep any dog healthy.

They offer these four suggestions for training a dog: (1)

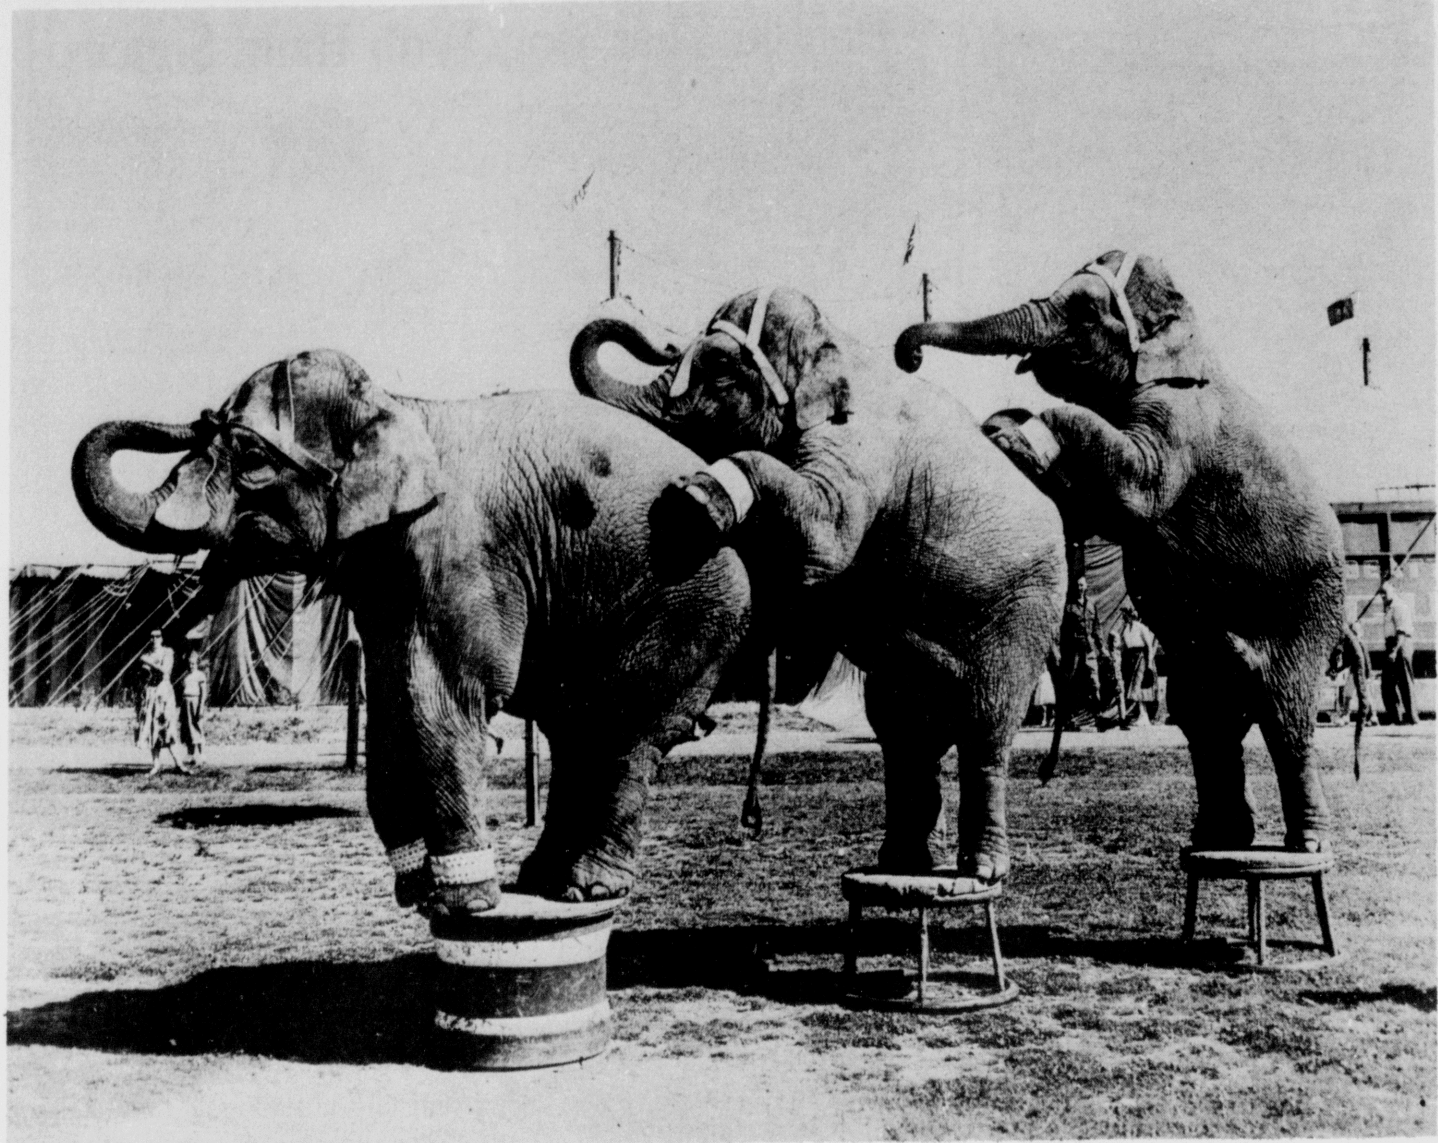

Begin when the pup is about six months old, working patiently for five to ten minutes regularly each day, then increasing the time to 20 minutes or a half hour. (2) Play with the dog a few minutes before and after the training period, but when working, be firm and consistent. (3) Use the same hand signals or command words each time and repeat them until the dog understands. (4) Give short, sharp, but never angry commands; sincere praise and stern reprimands.

4-H'ers Study Bugs

One project that every 4-H boy and girl can undertake concerns insects. It is 4-H Entomology, and provides unlimited opportunities to learn more about control of bugs and pests which annually cause millions of dollars worth of damage in the state.

Awards Offered

One of the best features is that little or no investment is required to get started in the project. In fact, it pays handsome dividends to 4-H'ers who do an exceptionally good job. The Hercules Powder Co. offers awards like the medal pictured above, an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, and $400 college scholarships for six national champions.

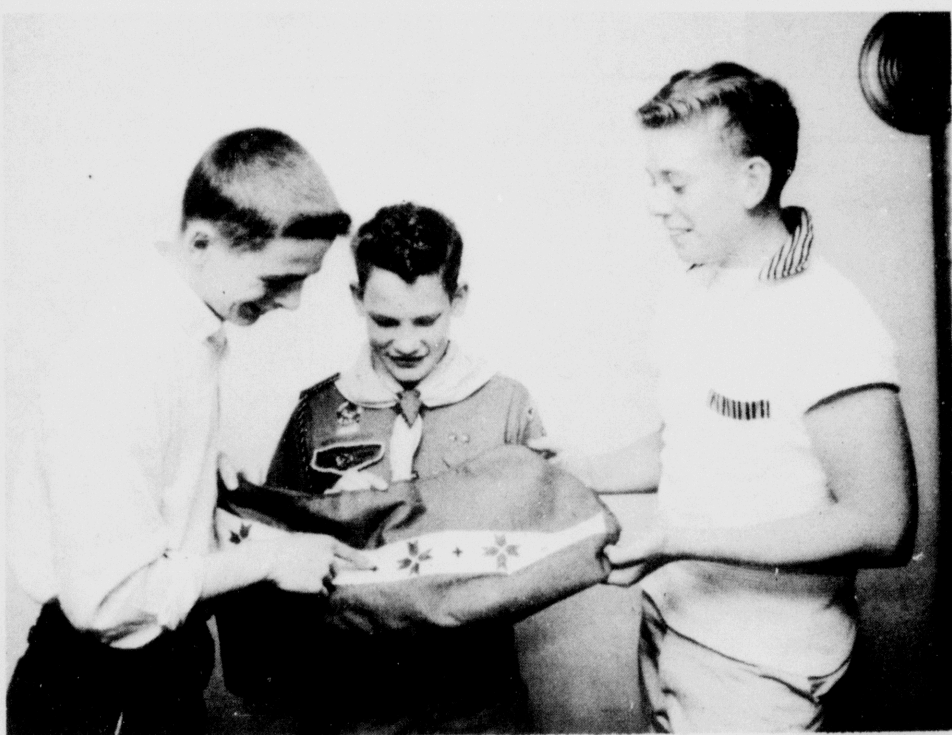

County Medal

Has Varied Application

The entomology project is one that can be successfully completed by city 4-H'ers as well as those living in rural areas. There are several categories, namely: insect collections; life history studies; insect surveys and control; demonstrations and exhibits.

Already a favorite of many boys and girls, the project frequently leads to an interesting hobby. The Cooperative Extension Service directs the 4-H Entomology program, and information regarding enrollment can be obtained from the County Extension Agent.

GREAT CLYDE BEATTY CIRCUS IS DUE IN FEW MORE DAYS

EL REY SISTERS, AERIALISTS

The Clyde Beatty Circus, one of the world's largest amusement organizations, will exhibit in Warren, Wednesday, May 28, at 3 p. m. at the airport circus grounds under the auspices of the Warren Jaycees.

Clyde Beatty battling more than 40 lions and tigers will appear at each performance.

More than 150 performers representing the best talent obtainable from the five continents of the world are to be seen with the big show this season.

As a prelude to this circus performance, a gloriously enchanting and stupendous spectacle entitled "La Fiesta," a gorgeous pageant, is unfolded. To those who love fairy lore, it far exceeds in magnificence, brilliancy, gorgeousness and beauty the glories of any spectacle yet staged by this circus.

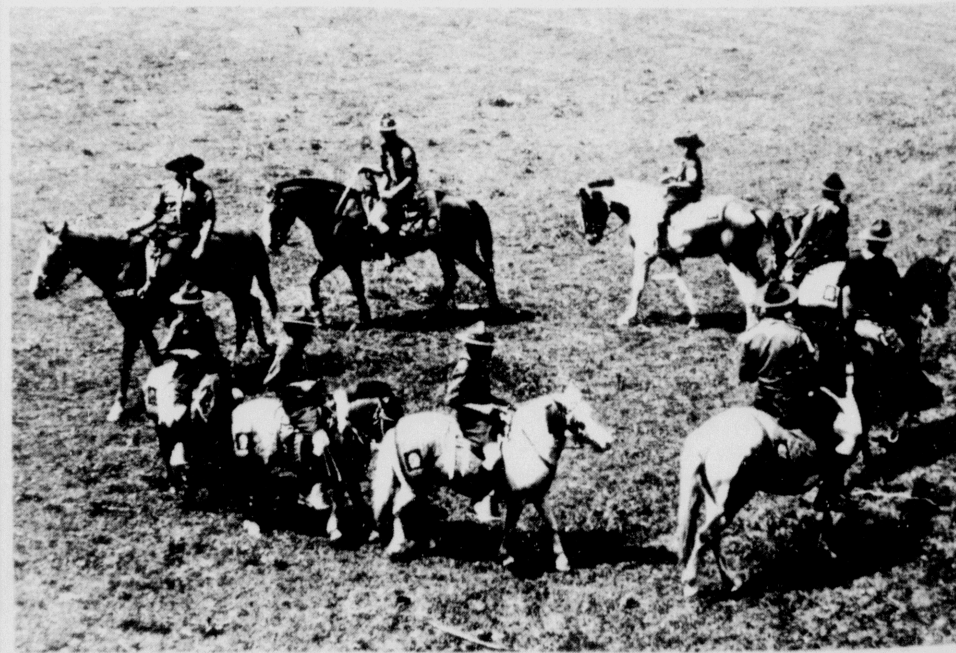

There will be dancing girls; great companies of trained singers, orchestras of vast size, grand golden-toned organs and the crash of cymbals. Yet this colossal production which daily amazes thousands, is but one feature of the Clyde Beatty Circus.

The El Rey Sisters, aerialists, who work high up in the dome of the "big top" come from South America, to amaze and thrill you. The dancing, somersaulting, tumbling wire walker Jean Attilana; the flying Victors aerialists, champions of Argentine and the famous Segura family of equilibrists. Clowns, headed by Eddie Dullum, Chick Yale, Bozo Ward, Steve Milaco, and Frank Yale will furnish fun for the little folks. Alexander Konyot's troupe of dancing horses will be seen. Also Josephine Berosini, Scandinavian queen of the high wire and Hugo Zaccchini who will be shot out of the mouth of a huge cannon, the full length of the "big top."

There are 700 people with the big show which recently returned to America after a tour of South America. The 150 performers represent eight foreign countries. Twenty-two tents covering 12 acres of ground are used to house the transient city which at night is transported from town to town upon two special convoys.

The performances will be given at 2 and 8 p.m. The doors will open an hour earlier to permit an inspection of the immense zoo or to enjoy a concert of popular and operatic music.

CANADIAN SCOUTS of the First Boy Scout County Fair at the Youngsville Fair Grounds. The outfit will perform at 7:30 p.m. this Friday, 2:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

Work details are being scheduled by William Swiger, chairman of the clean-up campaign, Paul Yaegle, range director, and Harry Spackman.

About 250 archers are expected to participate in the Federation shoot on June 8.

Warren teams in the six team loop are Soda Mineral, Betts Machine Shop, Struthers Wells and Nino's Restaurant.

HIGH SCHOOL BEATS CLYMER

Warren High School baseballers racked up their sixth straight win of the season yesterday afternoon at Clymer, N.Y. by downing Clymer, 9 to 4. The Dragons have lost only one game, their opener.

TUESDAY'S SOFTBALL

Hard hitting Soda and Mineral won their second game of the Warren City Softball season behind the pitching of Bud Speicher as they bombarded a youthful Nino's Restaurant aggregation, 18 to 2, last night.

Betts Machine, the league's other powerhouse, dumped Youngsville National Bank, 11 to 7, in a contest at Youngsville last night.

SCHEDULE SUNDAY GAME

Soda and Mineral will host a strong Bradford Shamrocks team in a softball game on the West Side Diamond on Sunday afternoon. Game time is 2 p. m.

WE RECOMMEND the reading of a column by James Reston of the New York Times, which appeared in last Sunday's edition. It is a complete analysis of our South American relations as related to the Nixon trip.

THE GOVERNOR NAMED Duane E. Wilder of Warren to serve on the state commission which will study Pennsylvania's library problems and come up with suggested improvements. This major area in our educational field is in need of the broadest kind of progressive thinking.

POTENT PROOF that cigarettes and alcohol have an adverse effect on our health have been revealed by the Sloan-Kettering Institute for Cancer Research. Seventh-Day Adventist men who do not smoke or drink have ninety per cent fewer lung cancers and forty per cent fewer heart attacks than those of other faiths. Of the 8,000 Adventists studied only one man had lung cancer, and he had smoked for 25 years before joining the church.

Cancers of the mouth, larynx, esophagus, and bladder, which are linked with smoking and alcohol, were scarce among the Adventists.
Other cancers were equally as prevalent. Heart attacks came later among Adventists than the average.

WE LOST A FRIEND last week when Thomas L. Stokes, a regular columnist on these pages, died of cancer of the brain. A columnist for 37 years, he was considered the dean of Washington reporters, though he was only 59.

Mr. Stokes won the Pulitzer Prize for his investigation of the WPA scandal in Kentucky, and received the Raymond Clapper Memorial Award for the best Washington correspondence of year 1946. He was awarded a special citation again this year by the Raymond Clapper

Memorial Association, and also had been named by the Washington correspondents themselves as the correspondent who had done the best all-around job in terms of reliability, fairness, and ability to analyze the news.

He won national attention in 1935 for his disclosure of corruption in the Huey Long regime and for his exposure of articles exposing the exploitation of labor in Southern states by "runaway" industries from the East and Midwest.

His latest tribute was the Statesmen Series of columns, most of which appeared in this paper, and which were written by government and business leaders of national repute as a substitute column while Mr. Stokes was ill. It was described as one of the most unusual and finest gestures ever accorded an American newspaperman.

The press doesn't come up with many like this gentlemen.

DEER DISCUSSION

The arguments about deer management, due to the heavy herd, continue, but of course get nowhere. What is needed is intelligent and open-minded discussion at the right time and in the right places. This may occur on May 27 in Pennsylvania State University, starting at 1:30.

It is called a deer management seminar and is being held in the auditorium of the Extension Conference Center. You are welcome to join the landowners, commercial and public foresters, sportsmen, and others who are invited.

Research results will be the main subject, and with the background of deer economics, deer ecology and biology, and the study of interrelationships between deer and forest management available at the university, something should be learned by the visitors.

The subject will be opened through a panel discussion, in which the researchers will participate. This will be followed by open discussion. The seminar is open to all sides, including those who oppose deer management. And those who have so much to say against scientific management, and in fact have much to do with blocking it in this state, should be there to voice their opinions if the seminar is to be successful.

Area sportsmen and landowners who have been caught in the middle of this subject should attend. They are bound to learn much, not only about white tails, but about the effect the animal has on others.

FISHING VARIABLES

The Fish Commission reports that the trout season so far has been unusual in many ways. The catch at the very start was good, everything considered. It then leveled off to a point less than average.

The light catch is not difficult to analyze. The dry summer in 1957 resulted in a heavy kill, and a severe winter added to the loss. The stocking program was less than usual because of fund shortages, producing a combination which can add up to only one result... less trout in the streams.

However, this is being remedied in a greater measure than usual by stocking closer to the creel. And a poor catch today does not necessarily mean that you won't nail a few good ones the next time out. The continual stocking is assurance that a stream which lacks fish today may have many within its waters tomorrow. The fishermen should watch the stocking announcements and make the most of them.

WHERE FISH ABOUND

You can be fairly sure of catching several fish and taking at least one nice one home if you visit Fishermen's Paradise near Bellefonte. It opened on May 16 and will be open until July 19, from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m., daily.

You must quit fishing on this stream after you have killed one fish. The size limit is ten inches on the men's stream and seven on the women's. You can use flies and streamers only, with barbless hooks.

You must register going in and out, and you can visit the stream on five different days. You must have a fishing license, and it is wise to declare any fish previously caught or they will be considered as fish caught on the stream, and violations cost $20, plus the revocation of your fishing privilege.
